

Game of Mates

with Dr. Cameron Murray

The Economic Society of Australia (ESA) ACT branch invites you to a presentation on how economic policy in Australia may be thwarted by grey corruption as discussed in the book called Game of Mates: How favours bleed the nation.

Dr Cameron Murray is an economist with a passion for improving society. He specialises in property markets, resource and environmental economics, and corruption. Cameron also teaches at the University of Queensland, blogs at fresheconomicthinking.com, tweets at @DrCameronMurray and his Facebook page is Fresh Economic Thinking.

Details

Date: Monday 17 July 2017

Time: 12:30pm

Location:

Room 6, 1st Floor,
Griffin Centre, 20 Genge Street,
Canberra ACT 2600

For more Information

admin@esaact.org.au

Click here to book for event

